

Saturday, March 23: Happy Anniversary Homolovi "30" Years Homolovi II Pueblo Tour

9:30am. Join a Park Ranger on a guided walk to the largest of the Homolovi Pueblo's. This 1250 plus room pueblo with over 40 kivas, was occupied by the ancestors of the present day Hopi (the Hisat'sinom). This ancestral home from 1360-1390 was one of the last stopping places in the Hopi Migration. Day use-fee of $7 required. Tour starts at the Homolovi State Park Visitor Center. (est. time: 1 hour)

Saturday, April 2: Petrified Wood Walk

9:30am. Join a Park Ranger on a walk to Homolovi's mini petrified forest. This tour will explore the park's paleontological history. The tour will require about 1 mile of walking, round trip, across natural landscape, to view an approximately 1 acre area of exposed petrified trees. The talk will describe the petrification process, the Triassic period, and the environment as it once was. Day use-fee of $7 required. Tour starts at the Homolovi State Park Visitor Center. (est. time: 1 hour)

Saturday, April 9: Hopi Pottery Talks

9am. Join Park Ranger and Hopi Potter, Gwen Setalla for a discussion and demonstration of traditional Hopi pottery. She will explain, how traditional pottery is made and talk about how to recognize authentic made pottery. This will be held at the park's visitor center and will last approximately 1.5 hrs. Day use fee of $7 required. (est. time: 1:30 hours)

Saturday, April 16: Petrified Wood Walk

9:30am. Join a Park Ranger on a walk to Homolovi's mini petrified forest. This tour will explore the park's paleontological history. The tour will require about 1 mile of walking, round trip, across natural landscape, to view an approximately 1 acre area of exposed petrified trees. The talk will describe the petrification process, the Triassic period, and the environment as it once was. Day use-fee of $7 required. Tour starts at the Homolovi State Park Visitor Center. (est. time: 1 hour)

Saturday, April 23: Homolovi II West Petroglyph Walk

9:30am. Join a Park Ranger on a hike to the Homolovi IV West Petroglyph Site. This tour will explore some of the park's prehistoric petroglyphs. The tour will require approx. 3/4 mile of walking, round trip, across natural landscape and modest boulder scrambling, to view an approximately a 10 acre area Day use-fee of $7 required. Tour starts at the Homolovi State Park Visitor Center. (est. time: 2 hours)

Saturday, April 30: Tsu'vö Loop Trail and Petroglyphs

9:30am. Join a Park Ranger on a 2 mile hike to the Tsu'vö Petroglyph Site. This easy hike through upper-Sonoran grassland will explore some of the park's prehistoric petroglyphs and offers panoramic views of the Little Colorado River Valley. Day use-fee of $7 required. Tour starts at the Homolovi State Park Visitor Center. (est. time: 1:45 hours)

Saturday, May 7: Homolovi IV West Petroglyph Hike

9:30am. Join a Park Ranger on a hike to the Homolovi IV West Petroglyph Site. This tour will explore some of the park's prehistoric petroglyphs. The tour will require approx. 3/4 mile of walking, round trip, across natural landscape and modest boulder scrambling, to view an approximately a 10 acre area Day use-fee of $7 required. Tour starts at the Homolovi State Park Visitor Center. (est. time: 2:15 hours)

Monday, May 9: Transit of Mercury Crossing the Sun

5am.-11:30am. SW U.S. the transit will be in progress at sunrise around 5:23 a.m. MST. Mercury will be midway across the sun by 7:30 a.m. MST and leave the solar disk around 11:30 a.m. MST. Mercury transits are more frequent than Venus transits since it orbits the sun about 3X faster than Venus. The last Mercury transit was in 2006 and the next 2 after this one will be 2019 & 2032. Compared to human lifespans this transit schedule still gives one pause to try to see them at every opportunity. Mark your calendar and get out your scope with a white light solar filter or Ha filter. Winslow-Homolovi Observatory (WHO) Homolovi State Park Visitor Center. Day use-fee of $7 required.

Saturday, May 21: Homolovi II Pueblo and Archaeological Conservancy Petroglyph Hike

9:30am. Join a Park Ranger on a hike to the Homolovi II Ancestral Hopi Pueblo and Petroglyph Site. This tour will explore some of the park's prehistoric petroglyphs and the Homolovi II Ancestral Hopi Pueblo The tour will require approx. 1.3 mile of walking, round trip, across natural landscape and modest boulder scrambling, steep terrain and loose gravels. Day use-fee of $7 required. Tour starts at the Homolovi State Park Visitor Center. (est. time: 2:00 hours)

Saturday, May 28: Tsu'vö Loop Trail and Petroglyphs

9:30am. Join a Park Ranger on a 2 mile hike to the Tsu'vö Petroglyph Site. This easy hike through upper-Sonoran grassland will explore some of the park's prehistoric petroglyphs and offers panoramic views of the Little Colorado River Valley. Day use-fee of $7 required. Tour starts at the Homolovi State Park Visitor Center. (est. time: 2:00 hours)

